EAGLE ROCK BEER TOUR

Technically it is not just Eagle Rock but Highland Park and Glassell Park as well. This area is between Glendale to the west, Pasadena to the east. There is one brand new brewery and three beer bars that you could spend a long time in.

Head past Occidental College and over to York Boulevard. Galco's Soda Pop Shop is nearby but we are heading to the York. My go to destination for gastropub fun. Great burgers and a small but nice tap list. Plus great desserts.

Suggested Beer to try – anything by Craftsman Brewing on tap.

One of the best beer bars in all of Los Angeles. Great focused beer list. But what I really love is their always updated menus. It shows the abv, the price and what beer will be next when that keg is tapped. You know what to order before it's gone!

Suggested Beer to try – Try any of the great Belgian beers. This list moves so fast to choose one beer.

I am so excited about this place. Why? It's ten minutes from my house and I have seen the progression from empty space to filled with fermenters and mash tuns. And it has a tasting room with a mug that has my name on it. The Raubs have worked really hard to bring this brewery to Los Angeles and I can't wait to see what beers they concoct.
